SC accepts govt response on J&J victims

The Supreme Court on Friday accepted the government's response on the compensation formula it had arrived at for victims for faulty hip implants manufactured by Johnson & Johnson (J&J).

Disposing of the public interest litigation (PIL) filed in the case, a two-judge Bench asked the Central government to take steps, including giving wide publicity to the scheme, so that victims could claim compensation. A PIL filed in the top court had alleged that "deadly" hip implants had been fitted into the bodies of 4,525 Indian patients since 2005. Though J&J requested to record in the order that the disposal of the PIL would not prejudice its case going on in the Delhi High Court, the top court refused to do so and closed the PIL.

On December 13, the Delhi High Court had refused to hear J&J's plea challenging a government notification asking them to pay affected patients and deferred the matter to February 26. A single judge Bench had then said that the firm's plea was "neither important nor urgent" and would not be heard immediately.

In 2017, the Centre had set up a panel to look after patients' problems caused by faulty hip implants produced and distributed by J&J India and DePuy Orthopaedics collectively. DePuy Orthopaedics is a fully-owned arm of J&J.

The committee, in its August 2018 report, had found J&J guilty of concealing information and said that the company should continue the compensation programme till August 2025. It had suggested that the victims be provided compensation between ₹3 lakh and ₹1.22 crore. AASHISH ARYAN

BPCL likely to pay ₹14 /share interim dividend: Moody's

State-run oil refiner Bharat Petroleum Corporation (BPCL) is likely to pay an interim dividend of ₹14 per share next month, according to the US rating agency Moody's. The amount of dividend is expected to be higher in the absence of a share buyback. "Although BPCL — unlike some of the other state-owned companies in India — has not yet announced a buyback, we expect it will need to pay an interim dividend in February of at least ₹14 per share, equal to the interim dividend paid in February 2018," the agency said in a note on BPCL, affirming its Baa2 rating. AMRITHA PILLAY
